PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello, once again,
all you Oceanids out
there:

Tomorrow I will see a lot of you at the Spring Luncheon;
the sign-up has been very good, and we'll miss the rest of you.

I'm finishing my first year as President-in-Training, and I must say the trip has been more enjoyable than I expected. The people in this organization are really exceptional, and it's been a pleasure and delight to get to know many of you. I hope during the coming year to have contact with more members whom I don't yet know.

One way this could happen is if you let us know,
when you turn in your renewal next fall, that you would be willing to be contacted when we need help. I've said before that organizations tend to depend on relatively few of their members for their operations, but I'd love to see more individuals involved - and I find it's very rewarding.
(Confession: I was a very marginal member until the nominating committee asked me to consider being president!)

I've come to know that the major connection for many members is their participation in the interest groups. This is as it should be; they are wonderful. But don't forget the luncheons, the holiday party, and the monthly Sounding Board luncheon talks during the academic year.

Thank you for making Oceanids the thriving organization that it is. Tell your friends (they don't have to be UCSD-connected), and tell us - or me
- how we can improve ourselves.

Have a great summer!

Ruth Stern

Oceanids support UC San Diego's 4th Annual PhD Career Conference

This Annual PhD Career Conference is dedicated to providing concrete and comprehensive perspectives regarding employment and career development for PhD, Master's and postdoctoral researchers, and Oceanids have provided financial support since its inception. As the organizer Joe Cribari says " Oceanids' support has been a big help in making this an ever-growing and successful event during the last three years." Last year's event exceeded all expectations attracting nearly 400 graduate students, postdocs, faculty, alumni and staff; a 20% increase over the previous year. Attendees included dozens of industry professionals and distinguished junior faculty —many UC San Diego alums—representing the sciences, engineering and the humanities, who, during the day's panel sessions, shared their secrets to career success, while emphasizing why it's essential to prepare early on in a doctoral career for life beyond graduate school. The need for this conference has only increased, with securing employment during the current economic circumstances presenting daunting challenges and uncharted territory for many graduate students and postdoctoral researchers.

Attendees responses are overwhelmingly positive. "The PhD Career Conference greatly broadened the view of career opportunities I have with a PhD degree and encouraged me to continue and complete my degree."

"I really enjoyed the "So you want to be a Professor" panel; I thought the speakers were really candid and helpful. It's the sort of brutal honesty that you usually only get once it's too late to do anything about it".

This year's conference will be held on May 19, and the Keynote Speaker is Jane Chin PhD whose talk is titled "How to Change the World with your PhD.

A new fund to assist our international students

Started with a generous gift from Rita Atkinson, the Oceanids Board has established a fund to assist our international students. The Oceanids Emergency Fund for International Students has a name that explains its purpose, which is to provide emergency funding for international students, with a preference for undergraduates.

The Financial Aid Office has a loan fund specifically for international students that was started many years ago and is helpful for significant financial needs that may arise for students far from home. This new fund is meant to provide assistance for smaller emergencies where students need immediate assistance, and is a grant not a loan. Awards from the fund are overseen by the Dean of International Education Lynn Anderson, who will annually report to Oceanids.

It is the hope and intention of the fund that the recipients will contribute back to the fund in the future to keep it self-perpetuating. In the meantime, Oceanid members and others may contribute the fund along with our other scholarship and fellowship funds. For more information on contributing to Oceanids Fellowships, Undergraduate Service Awards and this new Emergency Fund, please contact Liz Winant (lwinant@ucsd.edu) or Kim Signoret-Paar (kspaar@ucsd.edu).

OCEANIDS' INTEREST GROUPS

If five or more Oceanids wish to start a new group, please let her know so we can inform other members. All we ask is that your members be Oceanids. Dear Oceanids, Perhaps you have someone dear to you who has very poor or no vision.

One of our members alerted us to a wonderful organization. Her daughter has struggled with blindness for several years. Since she found out about the San Diego Center for the Blind a couple of months ago, she has been going to the free classes and counseling. It has profoundly changed her outlook on life, she has made new friends and sees hope for a future.

The SDCB is a not-for-profit organization and is funded solely by private donations. They do not receive any government funding and are not reimbursed by insurance companies for their services.

The Center has programs in San Diego, 5922 El Cajon Blvd, SD, CA 92115 (619 8238373) and in Vista, CA 92084 on 1385 Bonair Rd. (760 7585956).

Free transportation to and from the Center is provided.

You might want to consider a donation to this worthy cause.

OCEANIDS, INTERNATIONAL CENTER 0049, 9500 GILMAN DR., LA JOLLA, CA 92093-0049

OAKLAND — University of California President Mark G. Yudof announced on May 3 that he has selected Pradeep K. Khosla, dean of Carnegie Mellon University’s highly regarded College of Engineering, also known as the Carnegie Institute of Technology, to serve as the eighth Chancellor of the University of California, San Diego.

Citing Dean Khosla’s accomplishments as a leader, educator and researcher, Yudof said he emerged as the top candidate after an international search.

Details of the appointment will be voted on at the May 16 meeting of the UC Board of Regents. Khosla will succeed Marye Anne Fox on Aug. 1. Fox, who announced her resignation last year, will continue serving as chancellor until then.

“In slightly more than 50 years, UC San Diego, under the leadership of Marye Anne Fox and her predecessors, has become one of the world’s top universities,” Khosla said. “I feel fortunate, humbled and energized to have the opportunity to contribute to that excellence while embracing the challenges of integrating world-class research with an undergraduate educational experience that will remain accessible to all, regardless of family income.”

Khosla and his wife, Thespine, are the proud parents of Nathan, 21, Alex, 14, and Nina, 11.

Oceanids’ eBay Fundraiser Fetches over $2,500 in 2012

Thanks to Oceanids’ donors and the hard-working Oceanids’ eBay team, our eBay fundraiser brought in over $2,500 this year. The money from sales of donated items on eBay goes into our UCSD Foundation Oceanids account and supports student activities such as the Chancellor’s Run, the Ph.D. Conference, the Student Health Clinic and Friday Café. Here are a few of the many items that sold, among 116 donations from Oceanid members, family and friends.

We are likely to undertake this successful fundraiser again so please keep a place in your closet for possible donations to Oceanids! Again, many thanks to our generous donors and to members who worked on the 4-month event, from January through April 2012. Charitable donation receipts will be sent out in the next few months to donors whose items sold. If you donated an item that didn’t sell, please consider donating it again next year.

Tax receipts for the sold items will be sent out to the donors in a few weeks
