PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

When I agreed to become President-Elect last year, I had been an Oceanids member for more than forty years, but I had never been very much involved. My enforced involvement has shown me what a dynamic and vital organization this is. My start-of-the-year message is: GET INVOLVED. There are many of our 320- plus members whose membership activity is very limited.

This is the ideal time of year to get started. Interest groups are starting or re-starting; there is a terrific menu of Sounding Board lectures ahead of us; and there are events throughout the year which offer a variety of fascinating opportunities. Start with the Fall Luncheon Saturday, October 29. This year it's free! All you have to do is bring a pot-luck dish. (See the announcement featured in this issue of Oceanids News). You don't even have to cook. You can bring something from your favorite prepared-food source if you prefer. You will find displays about the interest groups - there are more than 25 of them - and discuss those that interest you with their representatives. The variety is huge, and the frequency of meeting varies widely. I challenge you to find one or more - or to add one to those you already belong to - and give something new a try. I'm planning on joining the movie group: Cinema Soirée.

Next, look at the Sounding Board offerings. These lectures, by local specialists, follow lunch at the Faculty Club every month during the academic year. The presentations are always interesting, and you can't beat that Faculty Club buffet! They are well-attended, so get there early and meet some new friends!

As I start a bit hesitantly on my new venture as President, I want to thank those who have made the transition smooth: First and foremost, Immediate Past President Judy Vacquier whose dedication and leadership have shown me how an organization should be run; Second: several ex-Presidents, especially Barbara Bank and Maxine Bloor, whose extensive knowledge of Oceanids have helped me enormously in getting started; and Third: the Oceanids Board who just do their jobs - some of them very complex - and make it possible for the President to just hold things together! They are wonderful people. Meet them when you come to events and to interest groups. You'll be glad you did. And feel free to let me know your ideas about improving Oceanids. My e-mail address is ruthstern@aol.com.

I look forward to meeting many of you this year (and maybe next) and hearing more about what you do and don't like about the organization, and how we can involve you more.

..... As you may be aware, our website's server, Orpheus, was permanently shut down at the end of June. Thanks to Randy Bank, we now have a new home for our website. The new address is:

<http://ccom.ucsd.edu/~oceanids/>

You will also find the new website in your 2011 directory. Please bookmark the new website and be sure to check it frequently this year for our interesting Oceanids activities. Mary Woo has posted the Sounding Board speakers for the first Thursdays in October, November and December. Please take a look at the fascinating speakers we have invited and mark your calendar to attend. I hope to see you there.

Oceanids has an e-mail mailing list!

The purpose of the listserv or email distribution list is to allow our President, Board members, Interest Group chairs or anyone else with an important announcement to contact our membership. Also, a notice will be sent on the listserv when the Oceanids News is posted on our website.

If you have questions, have an announcement for Oceanids, or are a new subscriber, please email the listserv administrator, Judy Vacquier, at jvacq@sbcglobal.net.

Also, anyone who would like to make corrections to the directory and/or to our database (from which we obtain the addresses for 'Oceanids news' mailings,) please e-mail Mary Cutchin at marycutchin@yahoo.com.

“Engineering Algae for the Production of Therapeutic Proteins and Biofuels”

The research in the Mayfield lab focuses on molecular genetics in green algae, and on the production of therapeutic proteins and biofuel molecules using algae as a production platform. They are developing the molecular tools that will be used to produce either recombinant proteins or engineered biofuel molecules.

The continued genetic, biochemical and structural studies should lead to a greater understanding of the mechanism of gene expression in algae, and allow algae to become a viable source for sustainable biofuel and recombinant protein production.

DEAR OCEANIDS

You have by now heard about our Oceanids Fall Potluck Brunch on October 29. Come and meet old friends and make new ones, sign up for Oceanids interest groups, and enjoy the variety of dishes brought by our members. Remember that parking is free on campus on Saturdays. Hope to see you there.

My View !

Times have changed

With the worldwide recession and women working outside the home, we have fewer Newcomers (new faculty, postdocs, visiting scholars and sabbatical people).

As money has gotten tighter, there are many other changes taking place on the campus. These days UC San Diego has many more foreign students than before, especially undergrads, who pay far more tuition than Californians. Formerly, it was difficult for foreign undergrads to gain admission to UC because it was thought that we should primarily educate our own.

But in some way, this has made UC a more exciting and diverse place. I love foreign students and work very hard as a volunteer at both the UC San Diego International Center and the UC San Diego International House. I married a foreign student and our daughter married a foreign student. Nonetheless, as a Californian tax payer, I object to the new scheme because it is squeezing out promising local students who can't afford to go elsewhere.

Perhaps this influx of foreign students is the only way to keep the financially strapped UC system afloat. But I keep hoping that this is only a temporary arrangement and we can go back to the old system of educating our own kids and still attracting the brightest graduate students from the rest of the world. I say this as part of a four generation UC Berkeley family who is proud of what UC has accomplished for California. Forgive me for sounding off!

Friends/Oceanids July 4th 2011 celebration.

This year's July 4th festive picnic saw about 55 newcomers. Fun was had by all with various games for children and adults, with rock painting and Kumihimo (a Japanese braiding technique), balloon animals and face painting.

The menu included the traditional hotdogs, baked beans, coleslaw, potato salad, watermelon, and brownies.

Many wonderful volunteers helped make the party a success, among them Oceanids Barbara and Randy Bank, Eleanor Tum-Suden, Georgina Sham and Barbara and Bob Starkey.

Thai Dinner

On Saturday October 22, the Friends of the International Center will hold another of a series of Ethnic Dinner fundraisers for the Scholarship Fund. As usual, the dinner will take place at the International Center and will begin at 6:30 pm. Parking is free on campus on weekends and we will reserve the IC parking lot for those with handicap parking permits. If you have such a permit, please make a note on the reservation coupon and we will put your name on a sawhorse to save your spot in the lot.

The menu will feature both vegetarian and non-vegetarian dishes: Chili sauce and minced fresh chilies will be available to those who wish to add them to the mild curries. White wine, sparkling water and herbal tea are included with the meal.

After dinner, Chris Wills will give a PowerPoint presentation entitled "Off the Beaten Track in Thailand." He will show photos, both underwater and above, taken during our three trips to Thailand. Some of these photos were used in his most recent book entitled "The Darwinian Tourist." The cost is $30 per person or $25 per member of the Friends of the International Center.

If you do not have a reservation coupon from the Friends' newsletter please email lizfongwills@yahoo.com or call her cell telephone 858 232-7545 to make a reservation..

OCEANIDS - Founding Sponsors of the "Annual PhD Career Conference".

Dear Oceanids Foundation,

On behalf of the graduate-student planning committee, I wanted to thank you again for your support of the 3rd annual PhD Career Conference held on May 14, 2011 at UC San Diego. The conference surpassed all expectations with over 300 doctoral and post-doctoral fellows attending to discuss professional and career development topics with more than 25 advanced-degree professionals - many UCSD alumni - who successfully transitioned to distinguished careers in and beyond academe.

Thank you again for your interest and support of this unique and popular campus event.
Sincerely, Joe Cribari
