Hot dogs with buns and condiments, Vegetarian Baked Beans, Potato Salad, Green Salad, Brownies, Watermelon, Wine and Lemonade.

COST: $6/adult and $3/child 2-10 years.
Infants Free!

You MUST make reservations by Monday,
June 29

Parking is FREE on the UCSD campus on July 4th. For more information, email Georgina at gbsham@gmail.com

EBay Auction update:

This year's EBay auction was a low key event in which we auctioned items left from last year's auction. As of this writing in mid-May, we have raised $300 by selling six items. The remaining items were for sale at the Spring Luncheon. The committee members were Mary Hanson, Liz Winant and Judy Vacquier. Save your donations for next year when we kick off in January 2016!

The
Oceanids Fall
Brunch will be on Saturday,
November 2. We normally schedule the Brunch for October, but there were conflicts with a three day weekend, and a large event at the International Center. Please mark your calendars now so we may enjoy the pleasure of your company.

OUTGOING PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

After two years in this job I have made many wonderful friends in Oceanids, and I hope those friendships continue to thrive in the years ahead.

I have enjoyed the opportunity to serve as president. The support I have received from the Board, Interest Group chairs and the membership at large has meant a great deal. I am proud to be associated with a group that does so much for UCSD students.

Oceanids is very fortunate to have such a talented, experienced and thoughtful member as Liz Bonkowsky who agreed to serve as incoming president. You will all enjoy working with her and I know you will give her the same kind of support and encouragement you have given me.

I'll continue to serve on the Board as recording secretary. And I never miss Oceanids bridge if I can help it -
Mary Hanson

INCOMING PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I am honored that you have chosen me to be your next Oceanids president. For me, the Good News is also the Bad News. This is a wonderful organization that manages to combine friendship, interests, and good works. It is just amazing how much we do. One of the past presidents told me not to be nervous because after two years, she was still discovering new things about the Oceanids.

But this is just the problem. There is so much going on that I despair of ever mastering the job. I will rely heavily on past officers for the necessary institutional memory. And my plea to you is to keep on doing whatever it is you are doing - we are not only working well together but also just plain enjoying ourselves.

Please read the newsletter and consult the web site. You, too, will be impressed with all we do. Have a pleasant and relaxing summer. We will gather in the fall to carry on our activities and friendships.

Liz Bonkowsky

A WONDERFUL SENTIMENT (I don't know who sent this article to me; author please come forth)
I grew up with practical parents. A mother, God love her, who washed aluminum foil after she cooked in it, then reused it. She was the original recycle queen before they had a name for it. A father who was happier getting old shoes fixed than buying new ones. Their marriage was good, their dreams focused. Their best friends lived barely a wave away. ---I can see them now, Dad in trousers, tee shirt and a hat and Mom in a house dress, lawn mower in one hand, and dish-towel in the other. It was the time for fixing things. A curtain rod, the kitchen radio, screen door, the oven door, the hem in a dress. Things we keep. It was a way of life, and sometimes it made me crazy. All that re-fixing, eating, renewing, I wanted just once to be wasteful. Waste meant affluence. Throwing things away meant you knew there'd always be more.---But then my mother died, and on that clear summer's night, in the warmth of the hospital room, I was struck with the pain of learning that sometimes there isn't any more. Sometimes, what we care about most gets all used up and goes away...never to return.. So... While we have it..... it's best we love it.... And care for it... And fix it when it's broken..... And heal it when it's sick. This is true. For marriage..... And old cars..... And children with bad report cards..... And dogs with bad hips.... And aging parents.....And grandparents. And even forgetful friends. We keep them because they are worth it, because we are worth it. Some things we keep. Like a best friend that moved away or a classmate we grew up with. There are just some things that make life important, like people we know who are special..... And so, we keep them close.

How do Oceanids financially support UC San Diego Students?

This current fiscal year Oceanids gave a total of $16,500 in Fellowships and Service Awards, and, by the end of the fiscal year, we will give an additional $9,000 in support of various campus projects such as the PhD Career Conference, the Student Run Free Clinic, and the Triton Scholarship Program. We expect to be able to give this level of support every year, and how are we able to do this?

We fund our Fellowships from Endowed Funds set up with the U C San Diego Foundation. The first fund to be created was the Freida Daum Urey Endowed Fellowship Fund created in 1993 “to support graduate or professional school women re-entering academia after a significant hiatus”. Next came the Bertha Lebus Fellowship Fund created in 1997. The donors stipulated that “Awards from the income are to be made to support a graduate student who is returning to the University after a period of at least one year after receipt of an undergraduate degree. The recipient @C male or female- should have a long range goal to become a teacher at any educational level.” A second Frieda Daum Urey Academic Fund was established in 2005 to meet new non-discriminatory rulings regarding gender, and all new gifts to the Frieda Urey Fund go to this Fund. The Oceanids Memorial Fund was created in 2001 for Oceanids to donate in honor or deceased members and friends, with the purpose “To provide support for graduate fellowships to individuals who have exhibited a history of service to the campus”. These funds are all invested and managed by the UCSD Foundation, with spending allocations for each fund determined annually. It is these allocations that we use to fund our annual Fellowships. Once we know how much is available to spend for the next fiscal year in each fund, we let the Office of Graduate Studies, who handles graduate student financial support, know how many Fellowships and how much they will be. They send out this information, including the requirements as determined by the donors, and select the recipients.

Additionally we have two more Oceanids Funds with the UC San Diego Foundation. The Oceanids General Projects and Services Fund was established in 1980 and is used as a discretionary fund, to fund the campus projects that we support and also any expenses incurred by the organization. Finally The Oceanids Undergraduate Service Awards Fund was created in 2008 with the purpose of funding a service award to one undergraduate from each of the UC San Diego colleges.

With the exception of the original Frieda Daum Urey Fund, all of the funds are active and thanks to continuing gifts from Oceanids members we have been able to increase our Fellowships and Service Awards as well as campus projects. Our Fellowship recipients are invited to attend our Spring Luncheon and tell us how they used their Oceanids' Fellowship. So if you have made a donation to a particular fund, you may be able to hear first hand what a difference your donation made.

Oceanids Avi-Set: more than just birding

Our birding group just had the last birding morning of the academic year. We find it too hot to go birding as we get into the Summer months, and anyway we all seem to have other things to do. It takes something special to get me up at 6:30 am on a Monday morning, but that's what I, and eight to ten other Oceanids do once a month, to look for birds. We have many different levels of experience in our group, and different people have different motivations for going birding. I knew very few San Diego birds when I first joined, but I was attracted by the lure of being out somewhere away from concrete and cars, and enjoying the flora & fauna of parts of San Diego County that I would not usually visit. I love to watch birds go about their every day lives and listen to them communicating. It is very useful and fun to be able to identify birds by their song; something I am working on.

Avi-Set at Mission Dam taken by Sue Corringham

We have had a very good birding year, and although long time birders tell us that the total numbers of birds are down, we still see between 30 to 40 different species each time we bird. The thrill of seeing a specific bird for the first time is certainly one of the high points and many people keep their own personal “life bird” lists. We also keep a list, compiled by Judy Vacquier, of all the species of birds seen at each location so we can compare them year to year.

In April we went to Silverwood, an Audubon Wildlife Sanctuary. This is a wonderful bird watching place, as the resident manager Phil Lambert provides food & nesting boxes for birds. He is also very aware of the resident snake populations. On the day of our visit, “grandma” a rattlesnake he has been aware of since he first took the job of manager 22 years ago, managed to grab a gopher just a few feet from where we were sitting. During the next hour we watched, alternatively fascinated and repulsed, as the snake managed to swallow this large gopher. Nature in the “raw”. New birders are always welcome.

OCEANIDS' INTEREST GROUPS

Interest Groups are the backbone of our Oceanids organization. They are here to meet the many varied needs of UCSD families, especially those new to the UCSD campus and the community. If you don't find an activity you would like to participate in, please contact Jan Ouren 273-1681 or jouren@san.rr.com, Interest Group Coordinator. If five or more Oceanids wish to start a new group, please let her know so we can inform other members. All we ask is that your members be Oceanids. If you are not yet a member of Oceanids, please consider joining us by contacting Mary Cutchin, 858-459-8074, marycutchin@yahoo.com or by submitting the application form in this issue.

Since the newsletter is posted on the Oceanids website we will, for security reasons, not publish addresses (with occasional exceptions). Please call the contact for the necessary information.

NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

About a year ago The Friends of the International Center started a new project for the international arrivals to UCSD.

Visiting an American Home

About 40% of the new arrivals that attend Friends Family Orientation sessions are interested in visiting an American home.

The idea is to invite a couple or family to a local home for a meal. This can be lunch, brunch, dinner, happy hour, or coffee.

The hosts may invite as many people as they feel comfortable. We try to find out if children are welcome or not. People can offer to host just once a year or more often.

The new arrivals often do not have a car and need to be picked up. They live mostly in the 92122 zip code, close to the university. An easy way not to put too much stress on the host is to include a friend for the meal who takes care of transportation.

There is a shortage of hosts at the moment. I am happy to report that the program got enthusiastic support from the Oceanids board, whose members view "Visiting an American Home" as an extension of Oceanids own Newcomers program.

Please let me know if you are available as a host.

I am looking forward to hear from you!

Another Tribute to Mary Bailey who died

February 2015

Mary has not been active with Oceanids for a few years due to her deteriorating health, but she was wonderful and a real inspiration and lively spirit for many years in the group...especially with the young mothers and infants coming on Wednesday to the International Center. She got the Oceanids' Maxine White Outstanding Service Award one year. Mary was wonderful and welcoming to all.!

For me personally, she was a life booster as she chattered away or took me to thrift shops. I did not fit into the upscale, snobby La Jolla, or the academic UCSD community. Besides, SD is indeed transient and all close friends that I made moved on or died.

I looked forward to seeing her on Wednesdays at the International Center and loved her positive attitude. Among others, her criteria for a friend were to have one car/family and hang the wash up to dry. I am a spoiled North American and missed the mark with not hanging up my wash! But now, years later my spouse Peter fits the bill and does hang up all wash. Mary would be pleased!!

Mary's bounce, exuberance and warm chatty way will be missed by many.

With much fondness for Mary
Nona Rowat

We are sad to report that Jean Kramer has passed away on Thursday, March 26. For the past few years Jean resided in Palo Alto, near her son Tony and family. In January of this year, Jean celebrated her 100th birthday!

We will always remember her as involved Oceanid, who received the Maxine White Outstanding Service Award in 2005 and for many years was involved in getting the newsletter to print.

We also send heartfelt condolences to Oceanid Freda Reid who lost her husband Joe on April 2. Joe Reid had been a prominent member of the Scripps Institution faculty.

And our thoughts are with Oceanids Silvia Berchthold who lost her husband Jean on April 29, and Su Chang who lost her husband John Wooley in April
