Oceanids new office, part of the International Faculty and Scholar Office, McGill Hall, Muir College

Coffee and refreshments: 9:30 am, meeting starts at 10:00 am. You are welcome to attend.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We are so grateful to Thespine Kavoulakis, Oceanids Honorary Chair and Associate of the Chancellor, for hosting us for the Fall Brunch in November.

As usual it was a huge success and enjoyed by all who came.

Thespine is a wonderful hostess and made us feel so welcome. The decorations and the food was wonderful. The Dia de Los Muertos theme was great and I loved the memorial table to past Oceanid members no longer with us – so pretty and thoughtfully done.

It is December already and the festivities are beginning. Many of us are gathering with family and friends during the next few weeks and soon it will be 2020. It is time for reflection on all we have achieved in 2019 and what is to come in the New Year.

As one of our recent scholarship recipients told me recently - ‘Yes, the money is extremely helpful, especially as expenses have increased so much, but this award is a lot more than that – it is a sign of approval that means so much when we are applying for other funding’ It is good to realize that our scholarship funds are so meaningful and leveraged by the students to help them even further - and that even a relatively small award can make all the difference.

We will soon be sending you the annual report of Oceanids financials and thank you for your continued giving to these funds. Please be on the lookout for the report and consider an end-of-year gift.

My very best wishes to all of you and your families for the holi-

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

We have a number of volunteer opportunities for Oceanids. Please see if any of the following interest you! We would love to involve more members in Oceanids activities. Please email Kim Signoret-Paar kspar@ucsd.edu and she will answer any questions about the “job” and connect you to the right person.

Hiking San Diego Interest Group – Drivers

A great opportunity to meet visiting scholars and students from around the world. They do not have cars, but look forward to hiking around San Diego County with this interest group. Consider joining the group and being one of the drivers for our International Newcomers.

Data input person to help with membership

Easy and not very time-consuming. Please call Mary Cutchin, Membership VP at 858-459-8074.

Computer software installation and database conversion

This winter we will be installing a new computer for the Oceanids office and will be moving our membership database to a new program. If this is something that you love to do, please contact us.

Kitchen Exchange Volunteers

A great group of volunteers works with Liz Fong-Wills (858 454-6858) on this signature project. New volunteers always welcomed.

From Wikipedia:

An ofrenda (Spanish: “offering”) is a collection of objects placed on a ritual display during the annual and traditionally Mexican Día de los Muertos celebration. An ofrenda, which may be quite large and elaborate, is usually created for an individual person who has died and is intended to welcome them to the altar setting.

This display coincides with the Día de los Muertos, which is a tradition originating with the Aztecs. The Aztec culture considered souls to continuously live and enter different realms when a body would die. This view the Aztecs held was commingled with the Christian beliefs that the soul is eternal (whether it be in heaven, purgatory, or hell) during the Spanish conquest of the Aztec Empire when the two cultures were merged.

The ofrenda is presented in one’s home in order to commemorate the souls of loved ones in the family.

Travelling in Raja Ampat

by Nigella Hillgarth

Raja Ampat consists of hundreds of beautiful islands off the coast of the Indonesian province of West Papua on the island of New Guinea. I have been fascinated by this area for many years because of the explorer and evolutionary biologist Alfred Russell Wallace who wrote about this area. It is a place of great biological diversity with animals from Australasia and Asia. The late Scripps Institution of Oceanography biologist Dick Rosenblatt once told me it had the greatest fish diversity on the planet. Raja Ampat is also remarkably pristine in many areas as few people live there and tourism is still relatively small. In October, Carol Manifold and I went on a wonderful trip travelling around these remote islands on a small wooden ship with nine passengers and eleven crew. We snorkeled twice a day over beautiful and healthy reefs that teemed with corals and fish. Floating with the current we drifted over an unforgettable tapestry of marine life. The islands are covered in jungle full of exotic birds and orchids. Seeing a Red Bird of Paradise displaying in the forest at dawn was a magical sight that will stay with me always.

Kafka Project Update: The Search for Literary Treasure - The Missing Notebooks and Love Letters."

Kathi Diamant, adjunct Professor at San Diego State University, founded and directs the Kafka Project, the official international search to recover the missing writings of Franz Kafka. These documents include 20 notebooks and 35 love letters that were confiscated by the Gestapo in 1933. After WWII they remained behind the Iron Curtain and inaccessible to scholars until 1997 when Kathi Diamant successfully petitioned for their release on behalf of the Kafka Estate and because Kafka's last lover was also named Diamant.

During the next two decades, Kathi Diamant's studies uncovered original materials and new information about the writer and those closest to him, leading to a biography, KAFKA'S LAST LOVE. This book, published in the US, UK, Spain, France, Russia, China, Brazil, Turkey, Albania and Germany, has been reviewed in more than 60 publications and internet sites. It received critical acclaim for original research, winning both "Best Biography" and the Theodore Geisel Award, the "Best of the Best" in the San Diego Book Awards.

Since 2015, the Kafka Project at SDSU has officially partnered with two German universities for its continuing searches. Kathi Diamant has been an East European Scholar at the Woodrow Wilson International Center in Washington, D.C. She lectures frequently on Kafka to literary and community groups, as well as to classes from middle school to university levels.

Meetings are at 1:30 p.m on the third Saturday of the month in room 111A of the Chancellor's Complex of UCSD. A map and more information are at www.sdscholars.org.
